AN INELIGIBLE SUGGESTION

- IS
- A proposal which calls attention to a need for routine maintenance or repair.
  - A problem which offers no specific solution.
  - A request for supplies, equipment, or services.
  - A proposal for a minor improvement in working conditions that the employee or his immediate supervisor could correct through normal administrative channels such as: direction signs, improved ventilation, lighting, personal convenience matters, etc.
  - An idea which has, as a matter of record, been previously considered.

A proposal will not be evaluated if it is obvious that the potential benefits, if adopted, would not be sufficient to offset the cost of processing. Proposals, in this category, however, will continue to be referred to the proper office for information and action if appropriate.

SUGGESTION vs JOB RESPONSIBILITIES

An award may be granted to an employee for an adopted suggestion which concerns matters either within or outside of his job responsibilities. However, if within his job responsibilities, it must be so superior or meritorious as to warrant special recognition.

PROTECTION

Even though an idea is declined, the suggester's rights are protected for two (2) years. If a declined suggestion is adopted within this period, AND if original conditions pertaining to its adoption have not changed, the suggester will be eligible for an award.

STATUS OF LIMITATIONS

Suggestions must be submitted within two years after adoption to be considered for an award.

DUPLICATES

An idea which has been suggested within the two (2) year period by another employee is considered to be a duplicate and is declined as a duplicate.

AWARDS

An award may be a Certificate placed in the suggester's Official Personnel Folder, or cash ranging from $15 to $5,000 for adopted suggestions, depending upon the value of the suggestion. This may be increased in exceptional cases. To qualify for a minimum cash award, a suggestion must produce tangible benefits which have a value of at least $50, or the equivalent in intangible benefits. Cash awards are accompanied by Certificates which are also filed in the Personnel Folders except that awards of $300 and over are accompanied by a Certificate of Appreciation signed by the Director.
